

In this story, two young black bears learn a lesson.

Black Bear! Black Bear!

Brownie heard his mother calling. But he did not answer. He and his sister were trying to catch a mouse. They had chased the mouse into a hole. Now they were trying to dig it out.

Mother bear hurried through the forest. Finally, she saw her children. She rushed up to them. Then she hit each one on the head with her front paws. The young bears were surprised. And they knew their mother was not pleased.

Mother bear walked on more slowly. This time, the young bears followed her. At the river, they found a fish and ate it. The bears liked the taste of fish.

The bear family crossed the river. Suddenly mother bear was calling out again. This time, the young ones ran straight to her. And then they saw it! It was the biggest bear they had ever seen. It was standing on its back legs. It was showing its huge, sharp teeth!
