There was an old woman
Who lived in a shoe,
She had so many children
She didn't know what to do;
She gave them some broth
Without any bread;
She hugged them all soundly
And put them to bed.

One little boy milked the cow.
Two little girls got the eggs.

Three little girls picked flowers.
Four little boys picked apples.
