COMPREHENSION: MAIN IDEA AND DETAILS

Before you read the next selection, use the title and photograph to predict the main idea. Then read the passage. Answer the questions.

My main idea prediction: _____

The Color of Flamingos

1 Flamingos are not born with pink and red feathers. They are born with white and gray feathers. But a flamingo's feathers turn different colors of pink, red, and orange as they get older. Why does this happen?

2 Flamingos eat mostly red food, like red algae and shrimp. These foods have a special nutrient in them called carotenes. That is what gives these foods their pink, red, and orange color. And the carotenes get stored in the flamingos' feathers. If the flamingos were given other kinds of food that did not have color, their feathers would still be white and gray.

1. What is this article mostly about?
  - A where to find flamingos
  - B what kinds of food flamingos eat
  - C why flamingos have their pink color
  - D which flamingos are white and gray

2. Part A

What might happen if flamingos ate blueberries their whole lives?

- A They might turn blue.
- B They might still turn pink.
- C They might turn orange.
- D They might stay white and gray.

Rain

by Margaret Millsap

Falls soft from the sky
As sweet to my face
As a baby's cheek.

Rain puts out the fire
5 That threatens our place
In this world each week.

Rain dampens the earth,
And new streams replace
The old, dried up creeks.

10 Roaring rivers race to the sea,
Licking away the trace
Of humans so weak.

And the satisfied sea
Smiles like a miner
15 Who finds what he seeks—
Gold.

In the first part of the poem, the poet describes the rain by comparing it to ____.
