

At night beavers swim out of their lodges to eat plants, berries, and tree bark.

When danger is near, a beaver hits the water with its tail. Smack!