

There they are in the tops of the trees. That's where they spend their days and nights.

Even baby lemurs move to a nest in the trees when they are just a few days old.