

Camels live in the hot, dry deserts of Africa. These camels have only one hump where they store fat for their long trips in the sun.

Camels have wide feet so they don't sink into the sand. They have only two large toes on each foot.