

Kangaroos live together in a mob. They hop across the hot, dry grassland of Australia.

The mother kangaroo carries a baby, called a joey, in her pouch.