

The next morning, there was milk all over Lucy's house, even on the chickens and the horses. "My house is too small!" shouted Lucy.

"Send all the animals out," said John. So Lucy sent all the animals out.