Say: Turn to page 20. We are going to do a Speaking lesson. You will answer some questions. Some questions may be easier for you than others. Don't worry if you don't know the answer to a question. Just do the best you can to answer in English. Do you have any questions before we begin?

 Look at the two pictures and read the directions below. When you are ready to speak, tell as much as you can.

- First, describe at least two ways these pictures are similar.
- Next, describe at least two ways these pictures are different.

TIP: Nod and smile encouragingly as the student speaks. If the student seems to be struggling, you may wish to ask additional leading questions to direct his or her thinking. However, remind the student that in a test situation, he or she will be recording responses alone, and you will not be able to help him or her.

Pause while the student answers the question. Evaluate the student's answer using the 4-point speaking rubric on page 164 and the speaking PLDs on page 172.

Instruct the student to turn the page.

EXTENSION ACTIVITY

1. Provide students with a calendar for next month. Guide students in a discussion of special events scheduled for that month including major tests, due dates for reports, assemblies, concerts, field trips, and athletic games.
2. Have students work with a partner. Assign each pair to one week. Read the schedule of events for each week and have the pair assigned to that week take notes.
3. Have each pair present the weekly schedule as they recorded it in their notes. Encourage students to use sequence words and clock times to clarify the schedule. Correct any confusion about what is scheduled and when.
4. Have the pair that has just presented ask their listeners questions about what will happen. For example, they might ask, "When is the dance scheduled—what day, what time, and what place?"

EXTENSION ACTIVITY

1. To encourage focused listening among your students, provide questions about a short passage. Do not give students a copy of the passage. Read the passage aloud to the class. Have students work with a partner to answer the questions. Conduct brief listening practice sessions for several days in a row, then weekly.
2. It is more difficult for most listeners to follow a speaker as part of a large audience. For beginners and intermediate students, you may wish to read the passage to a small group. Pause after reading the parts of the passage that answer questions. Reread as necessary. Challenge more advanced students to listen to a recorded story independently, and then complete a story map. Encourage students to illustrate the stories they listen to.
